North San Juan to Welcome Big Throng to Fiesta

Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Adele Cunningham of North San Juan wins the honor of Queen of the San Juan Fiesta. Quite fitting that a Ridge girl should wear the royal robes on the initial celebration of a big Ridge "come back." But the other five girls all deserve praise and commendation, along with the Queen for all the hard work and boosting they did for that event. Back of it all stood the San Juan Ridge Improvement League, a well organized body of neighbors along the Ridge, who have decided that that section needs a rebirth. This, indeed, is what the Ridge is experiencing.

And now after the great success, which will have attended the San Juan Fiesta, with its co-incident reunion of old friends and neighbors, its concourse of people drawn from the valleys to the mountains, and its throngs attracted from nearby points, why not other celebrations, other jubilees, other local fairs, other merry-makings, that will serve not only to awaken the communities in which these events take place, but to arouse a wider interest in their charm and resources?

Sheriff Cox of Sacramento County believes in adhering to the letter and the spirit of the law apparently. Three men accused of murdering Chief of Police Fish of North Sacramento, are in his custody. He has removed them to Folsom where he announces he will keep them until it is time for them to appear in court. We have always believed that any intelligent sheriff, if he respected his oath and the law, could prevent men in his custody from being murdered by mobs.

After the lie detector comes the laugh meter. A University of California psychology experimenter has evolved a machine which measures the muscular and mental reactions to a joke. Of course reactions to the same joke will vary widely with the individual, and thus corborate other significant traits of the individual undergoing psycological examination.

The President has set aside the western point of the Aleutian archipelago as a naval airbase which civilian pilots are forbidden to enter. It is known that among high naval authorities similar plans are contemplated for Wake, Midway and Guam islands. These measures, when and if, taken by the United States will be highly distasteful to Japan. If that country had desired to keep the United States from fortifying and establishing airbases at the four places named they had only to adhere to Washington naval treaty which especially provided that Wake, Midway and Guam should not be fortified. However, Japan, acting within her rights, denounced the treaty. The United States after January 1, 1936 will not be bound by it, and in view of the tremendous warlike spirit which animates the little brown people, it is probably just as well to set up a few well-placed sentry boxes in the Pacific.

The treasures that misled Italians to fondly believe are to be had for the taking in Ethiopia, according to a writer in the New Republic, are not there. Tales of El Dorados, treasures in soil, in minerals, in oil, are frequently heard to be sure, but none of them have been important enough to enlist any amount of capital in their exploitation. Undoubtedly under modern systems of agriculture the land could be made to yield more. But none but a dreamer would wish to pay the enormous price Italy must pay to acquire it, a price of thousands of lives and huge expendtiures of money.

FOUR OUNCE NUGGET SOLD HERE

Last Thursday Mr. Hal D. Draper, local assayer, purchased a gold nugget of unusual beauty that weighed about 4.2 ounces and was shaped something like a mountain oak leaf, from Louie Pavoney. The big nugget had been picked up in the bed of Deer Creek not far from Nevada City. Mr. Draper stated it was stream gold, as it had evidently been in a channel for a long time on account of the fineness which was established at 900 or better.

"Come Up and See Us," Says San Juan Ridge

The long heralded two-day San Juan Ridge Fiesta opens tomorrow morning in North San Juan. The community house is to all practical purposes completed. The finance committee announces that there will be very little indebtedness, if any, when the Fiesta is over. Reports from all sources indicated an attendance tomorrow and the next day of at least four thousand persons. Elaborate arrangements have been made to care for these thousands. A concession has been granted a Sacramento firm to provide food for this great concourse of people.

The committee in charge, consisting of Messrs. Miller, Trubschenk, and Clerkin report that financial receipts have far exceeded expectations. William Clerkin who has had charge of the ticket sales to the dances states that over 500 tickets have been sold.

Fred Conner will head a Nevada City caravan and committee to meet Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield and escort him to North San Juan next Sunday where he will give the oration of the celebration. Delegations and escorts to honor the lieutenant governor have been organized in Downieville, Camptonville, Alleghany and Grass Valley.

Conner was appointed to this post at a meeting Tuesday evening of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce. Judge J. A. McMahon of Downieville will lead the envoys of Sierra county and Judge Acton M. Cleveland the Camptonville delegation.

The robes for Queen Adele Cunningham of North San Juan arrived last evening, a corps of dress makers are now engaged in fitting this beautiful costume to her majesty.

The five contenders for this honor who made a gallant race for the royal throne will be honored along with the queen in many special events and will be guests of the Fiesta management for the two-day celebration.

Through the courtesy of the Bank of America, E. M. Rector, manager, two tellers: Lloyd Dudley and Carl Hieronimus were detailed Tuesday afternoon to undertake the count of ballots. The tellers were assisted by a group of four high school boys. The result of the ballot follows.

GOLD DUST THIEF IS NABBED BY MINERS

Ben and Gene Ulness and Frank Wallace placer mining on Kanaka Creek, missed a bottle containing $29 in gold dust and nuggets last week. They wasted no time about finding the person who stole it. They had had only one visitor in weeks. They did not report to the sheriff but started on the trail of the thief. They caught him and found he had cashed the gold dust and had only $9 left. They took that and extracted a promise that the other $20 would be returned by sweat of his brow. The thief is a sorrier, wiser young man.

Nevada County Mines Employ 2400 Men With Payroll of $336,000

In round figures the middle of August finds 2,400 miners employed in Nevada County with a payroll of $336,000. This is a slight advance over July figures and mining men believe the peak for this year has not been reached. The August report is approximately a 100 percent increase in mining employment with in two years.

Litigation instituted by the Pacific Gas and Electric company has had a depressing effect on placer mining, but in general, the prospect of government aided debris dam construction more than offsets this factor. Along San Juan Ridge there has been a sharp revival of interest in placer mines and the River Mines company has been busy making new surveys of ditches, reservoirs and reservoir sites. Construction of a dam at the Yuba Narrows will certainly result in tremendous activity along the Ridge.

Reports of mining operations follow:

PRESCOTT HILL MINE

Work of retimbeing the Sultana mine shaft has been completed. The property adjoins the Prescott Hill and is connected by tunnel. Water is being pumped through the Pre- of the Sultana. Leasors are working three drifts in the lower levels of the Prescott Hill. Both properties are a part of the Empire-Stor holdings.

CONS. METALS

It is rumored actual mine work will start on the Consolidated Metals property on Cement Hill, northwest of this city, in a few days with the present crew doing the work. H. B. Morse is in charge of the property.

GENERAL GRANT PROPERTY

Unwatering continues at the General Grant mine below Grass Valley. Messrs. B. L. Eastman and Smith are sampling the property.

IDAHO MARYLAND MINES

Mining and development continues in the Idaho-Maryland and Brunswick properties with the same number of men employed as last month. Work on the airport on the Loma Rica ranch is rapidly approaching completion. The boring machine holed through to the 600 foot level recently and work is continuing to the next level.

BALD MOUNTAIN PROPERTY

Development continues at the Bald Mountain property near Forest.

Glamorous San Juan Ridge Made History

(By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE)

In the early days the business, mining, and intellectual center of that section of Nevada County commonly known as the Ridge, was North San Juan, then a tthriving mining town, lying at the foot of San Juan Hill.

The first settler in the immediate neighborhood was Christian Kientz, who prospected on the west end of San Juan Hill, and in the spring of 1853, in connection with Jeremiah Tucker, developed the rich Gold Flat mine. To this enterprising pioneer is ascribed the honor of naming the hill from which the town afterwards derived its appellation. The reason given for his applying the name San Juan, so unusual in the northern mines, are various, and indicate a remarkable fertility of imagination that does great credit to their authors.

SAN JUAN'S NAME

One of these traditions says that Kientz had been with General Scott's army in Mexico and that one day on approaching San Juan Hill he was impressed with the resemblance it bore to the hill of the castle of San Juan d'Ulloa, and named it accordingly. However correct this may be, it is certain that the name is and ever will be San Juan.

A house was built by Kientz below the east end of the hill, in the spring of 1853, and kept by him as a hotel. The present National Hotel was built in 1855.

In 1858 it again exchanged hands and was named the Sierra Nevada House. Afterwards it was sold again and named the National Hotel which name it still retained under the management of A. J. Putman, who became the owner in 1865. It is now owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. James Bradbury who have lived in North San Juan for thirty five years.

SAN FRANCISCO STREET

In the old days there were a large number of people who came from San Francisco and settled at San Juan and the street upon which they lived received the name of San

Cities That Are to Be

We are the little cities,
Born in the early dawn;
French Corral and Sweetland,
Birchville and old San Juan.
We witnessed the swift advancement
Of a day that came to shine,
With the building of homes in the forests
And the wealth of a roaring mine.

We are the little cities,
Reared in the golden day
Of pioneer toil and conquest,
Now far, so far away;
The hills smiled down upon us,
And groves of oak and pine
Rejoiced in the added beauty
Of flowering tree and vine.

We are the little cities
Who watched the sunset lgiht,
Of the day our hearts had cherished
As it faded away into night;
The roaring mines were silenced,
And under each brooding hill,
The homes that love had builded
Grew strangely dark and still.

We are the little cities
Who waited the long night through,
Yearning amid the shadows
For olden skies of blue;
And now as the fair new dawning
Of a golden day we see,
We are the little cities—
The cities that are to be.

Tyranny Cannot Last

(Contributed)

If we take the larger view, the prevalence of dictatorships in Europe is not so alarming as it may seem. To all outward appearances the power of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin goes about unchallenged, crushing personal liberty, freedom of speech and press and religion.

But underneath it is challenged—seriously challenged.

Today half the population of Germany is described as in a state of open or secret rebellion against the efforts to deify Hitler. Not only Jews and Catholics—but Protestants, Masons, Veterans, and a host of other groups are united in opposition to the Nazi regime. And if they are not working too openly, they keep alive a network of underground opposition that is as powerful as it is determined.

The peoples of the world have had a taste of democracy and personal liberty, and have found it too sweet to let it die. If they are swayed from it by outbursts of intense nationalism, it is but transitory aberration. The groups who normally are in healthy opposition to each other within a framework of government which guarantees personal liberty eventually unite to defeat any force that attempts to subdue all others.

It may be painful while it lasts. But Hitler will fall—eventually all dictatorship will fall. And ultimately the world will achieve a character of democracy that will never be subject to even a temporary imposition of tyranny.

CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE, Aug. 15.—Miss Elsie Ann Price deputy superintendent of schools of Plumas County motored over from Quincy over the week end.

Mrs. Fred J. Joubert and her nephew James L. Joubert returned Saturday from a weeks visit with relatives at Ferndale, Humboldt county.

Melvin Bellyea of Auburn was in town Saturday attending the dance.

Bill Polkinghorn of Nevada City was in town Monday on a short business visit.

Miss Merle Horwege of Hammonton spent the week end here visiting relatives.

Misses Marion and Margaret Bellyea left Sunday for Auburn after an extended visit with the Groves family in this place.

The benefit school dance held on Saturday evening was a successful affair and netted the school district the sum of $56.35 after all expenses were paid.

Another big dance is scheduled to be held on Saturday evening September 14, 1935 in the local Masonic hall.

The special election was held on Tuesday with only twenty eight voting most of which were "no" on all three amendments.

Norman Foote of Grass Valley and his well known dance orchestra was in town Saturday playing for the dance.

UTILITY TAX ROLL IN NEV. COUNTY IS $6,751,200

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 15.—Completing its first assessment of public utilitiy property under the 1935 constitutional amendment, the state board of equalization has announced that this property had been valued at $1,045,939,570.

Of this total, $900,835,435 represents tangible property such as land, buildings and personal property, exclusive of money, stocks and bonds and solvent credits. The excluded items amount to $145,004,135 and are composed principally of solvent credits such as commercial bank balances and open book accounts subject to special taxes.

After adjustments ordered by the State Board of Equalization following a recent series of hearings, the value of tangible property, excluding money, on county tax rolls will be $5,713,961,685. When comparable utility property is added, the rolls will amount to $6,614,797,120, marking an average increase of more than 15 per cent in the value of property subject to local taxes.

In Nevada county assessments made by the State Board of Equalization are for a total of $6,751,200 of tangible property, while the final equalized value of other property of the same type is $7,939,085, making a total of $14,690,285, subject to general local taxes. This is the first time since 1910 that the bulk of the utility property has been taxable locally and corresponding reductions in taxes on other property may be anticipated unless there are offsetting increases in expenditures.

Utility assessments made by the State Board of Equalization will be reviewed during the next two weeks under a law giving utilities the right to ask for se-assessments before the tar rolls become final. Commencing today, the board will hear such applications and get the rolls in shape for delivery to county auditors immediately after August 19th.

THRIFTY OLIVE TREES

Twelve thrifty Mission olive trees on the E. J. Pollard ranch, up on the Tahoe Ukiah highway above Nevada City bear every year, and this season there is a better crop than usual. These trees are an unusual sight here as they grow at lower elevations and in warmer localities, but Mr. Pollard's ranch lies in a warm thermal belt in this district.

Francisco street upon which was situated many beautiful homes.

The first brick building in the town was erected in 1856, and was occupied as a grocery and provision store and was afterward used for a store house by A. Harris and Company. The brick section of this building is still standing and is just next door to the W. E. Moulton general merchandise store.

RAVAGES OF FIRE

On September 5, 1863, a fire originated in an unoccupied building, and destroyed three houses and all their contents. In October 1864, and again in September of 1865, fires originated in Chinatown, and destroyed a considerable number of frame buildings in that locality. Still another fire swept Chinatown away, July 4, 1870. The exertions of the firemen saved the balance of the town by controlling the flames in the rear of the National Hotel.

In May, 1875, the North San Juan Irrigating Company was organized for the purpose of laying down iron pipes to supply the people of the town with water for irrigating and household uses. On July 4, 1875, the work was completed and the water admitted to the pipes.

LAND TITLE DISPUTES

At one time considerable trouble was experienced in the matter of title to the town site. It was claimed, when the town was first built, by H. P. Sweetland, by purchase from J. B. Stafford. A portion of the land claimed was surrounded by a fence, within which was the cabin of the claimant.

A number of the settlers bought Sweetland's title, while others declined to do so, and in 1855, suit for trespass was brought against Thomas L. Frew. While the suit was pending Sweetland opened a street through the enclosed lot and offered lots of one hundred feet deep for sale at one dollar per front foot.

The suit was decided adversely to the claimant, and immediately settlers occupied all the land not before taken. Upon appeal to the Supreme Court, however, Sweetland's title to the portion that had been enclosed was sustained, and many then purchased of him while others refused to do so until another suit settled the question finally.

TOWNS ON THE RIDGE

Pleasantly situated on the Ridge down which runs the pliocene river channel, on the road from Columbia Hill to North Bloomfield, is the little town of Lake City. At one time this village contained one hotel, a merchandise store, saloon, blacksmith shop and several residences.

Situated at the junction of the North Bloomfield gravel channels with the one from the Blue Tent is Columbia Hill. In 1853 mining operations were commenced and in 1855 a man opened a store and the settlement soon became a village with a postoffice of its own.

Once flourishing, but now almost extinct, is the locality now known as Cherokee. The name was derived from some Cherokees, who moved here in 1850.

BIRCHVILLE

The little village of Birchville was situated on the gravel channel three miles south of North San Juan, and at one time it was the center of extensive mining operations.

The small town of Sweetland was early noted on the Ridge as a trading post and gradually became settled. It has been and may be again in the near future a scene of extensive mining enterprises.

French Corral is the last of the series of mining towns that lie on the Ridge between the Middle and South Yuba Rivers.

A corral was built at this point in 1849, by two Frenchmen from Frenchmen's Bar on the Main Yuba, to be used as an enclosure for mules. From this fact the locality and afterwards the town, received the name of French Corral. Mining was carried on in the ravines about this place in 1849, and a man named Galloway opened a store in a tent. Afterwards he sold his business to an English sailor who in turn sold the store in 1850 to Robert and John Bussenias. These two brothers erected a log house near where the Corral House now stands.

RIDGE PIONEERS

A pioneer is one who goes before to remove obstacles and prepare the way for others, or one who is among the first to explore a country. The real pioneer was no rude son of toil, but a man of thought, often trained in arts and letters.

This thought was borne home to me the first time I sat on the long cool balcony of the pioneer home of Mr. Henry Huckins of North San Juan and listened breathlessly while he related exciting tales of the early mining days one moment and in the next recited original but marvelous poetry.

Henry Huckins' grandfather was a Scot physician who came to this country in 1849, and began his practise at Rose Bar. As the miners moved up the river he followed behind and ministered to them, physically and mentally.

High on a slope of the foothills is still standing the Huckins home which was built in the early 60s, and overlooks the pine tree tops as well as the village below. In the spacious yard of this historical home is still standing the first telephone pole that was erected for the first long distance telephone in the whole world!

WORLD'S FIRST TELEPHONE

The Ridge Telephone Company was organized in 1878, and had its principal office at North San Juan. The line was owned by the Milton Water and Mining Company, the North Bloomfield Gravel Mining Company and the Eureka Lake and Yuba Canal Company. The line was sixty miles long and ran from French Corral to Milton Dam with a branch to Foucharie; in all there were twenty two stations on the line, and the chief use it was put to was the management of the ditches and mining claims.

Another pioneer family of North San Juan is Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holland who have lived on the Ridge for forty nine years. As I stepped into the Holland parlor it seemed to me I was immediately transported back into history for at least fifty years. The rich old carpets, antique furniture, priceless pictures and the generous hospitality of this remarkable family were delightfully instrumental in giving me this impression.

Mrs. Holland fondly remembers North San Juan as a locality of green grass carpeted slopes whereon was situated hundreds upon hundreds of beautiful well cared for homes. Water— worlds of water— was available at all times and the yards were laid with cool grassy lawns, flowers in great abundance bloomed everywhere and the gardens and orchards yielded acres of strawberries, nuts, and fruits.

HALCYON DAYS

In those good old days there was located in North San Juan a bank, express office, two clothing stores, two breweries, five saloons, a Methodist and Catholic church, two schools besides the different merchandise stores.

Dan Donovan is another interesting old timer with a memory keen for the yesteryears. He drove the Smartsville stage for eight years and he drove a butcher wagon for thirty years between Lake City and North San Juan. Mr. Donovan can remember when the hills were green with grass and offered grazing land to thousands of head of cattle.

HOMES ON THE RIDGE

He relates that when he used to ride along the Ridge there were lovely homes on every side of the road. In those days this section of the state was taken over almost entirely, to hydraulic mining. He re-

NO STIPULATION FOR REMINGTON HILL IS REPORT

It is reported by those who have attended the trial of the injunction suit brought by the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. against the placer miners along the Bear River, that there is little hope of the Remington Hill management signing the stipulation which Liberty Hill and You Bet owners are willing to sign with the P. G. & E. This stipulation it is reported is far more drastic in its demands than the Remington Hill management is ready to concede. It is reported that the P. G. & E. will waive damage claims under the stipulation but will insist that the placer miners agree that no mud or slickings shall ever again be turned into the Bear River or its tributaries.

Indications are that P. G. & E. will not sue the quartz mining companies which also discolor the water running into the Bear River. These companies are large users of electric power.

BELOVED "AUNT KATE" RIDGE RESIDENT 77 YRS.

As I review the pioneers on the San Juan Ridge, collectively, I see in each one traits of character needed to carve a name and living from the hard gold-laden hills of California. To some are attributed wealth. To others many acres of rich lands and to still others remain nothing but poverty.

But here I rise and profoundly salute Aunt Kate Sullivan up on the San Juan Ridge. I have no way of knowing if she has ever been worried with too much money. Perhaps she has never been burdened with large parcels of land. But this I do know—she posses a heart big enough to hold unknown realms of love and kindness for every bird, beast, and human being that lives within her knowledge. I know another of her rare possessions is a disposition sweet and true. For seventy-seven years she has lived on the Ridge and it is known that if she is once a friend—prosperity nor depressions will never effect that friendship—who could ask for more?

LAVA CAP AND BLUE JAY BALL TEAMS TO CLASH

The baseball championship of Nevada City will be decided tonight when the Lava Cap meets the Blue Jays at Watt Park. The Jays are the only non-mine team in the Gold League and are composed of the younger ball players of Nevada City and Grass Valley. Both these teams have defeated the Murchie mines team by about the same scores and tonights game looks like a great ball game. As there is no playing field in Nevada City the teams are forced to go to Grass Valley to play these games.

The Blue Jays have a strong line up and should have a good chance of defeating the Mine team. The lineup of the team will be picked from the following: infielders, R. Steger, Schroeder, Painter, Sullivan. Outfielders, G. Sullivan, Wasley, Brattin, C. Steger and Hoskins. Toccalini does the catching with Mails White doing the pitching and A. Casci relief. The Lava Cap lineup is uncertain but Piscavitch a Grass Valley leaguer will pitch for the mine team with P. White catching.

FIRES AT BADGER AND COLUMBIA HILLS

State Ranger William F. Sharp of the State Camp at the southern edge of Nevada City received a call at 2:56 p. m. yesterday for assistance in fighting a fire that had just started at Badger Hill near Cherokee. He sent out two assistant state rangers, a truck load of ten men, and pumper.

The Tahoe National Forest also sent men from the camp at Columbia Hill to assist in placing the fire under control.

expert fingers will talk and sing.

The escort caravans will meet Lieutenant Governor Hatfield, it is announced at LeBarr Meodaws and accompany him to North San Juan.

The grand march, opening the big ball Saturday night, will be lead by W. E. Moulton, Lord High Chamberlain, and Queen Adele Cunningham.

Saturday's program will consist of the dedication of the San Juan Ridge Community House, a dedicatory address by Judge J. A. McMahon of Sierra County at 3 o'clock, games and sports, vaudeville in which there will be six professional acts, the Fiesta ball in the evening and a Hopi Snake Dance performed by members of the Wyoming Tribe of Red Men.

Sunday's program will open with a fast and furious baseball game at 10 o'clock in the morning, in which the Grass Valley Miners will contend with the San Juan nine. At one o'clock a banquet will be served in honor of Lieutenant Governor Hatfield and at 2 o'clock the Veterans of Foreign Wars will dedicate a flag at the community house. The lieutenant governor, introduced by Judge George L. Jones of Nevada City, will deliver the Fiesta address. Then will follow the amateur radio hour under the direction of Christian Andersen. The second grand ball will open in the community house at 9 p. m.

All indications point to an attendance of between 4,000 and 5,000 people tomorrow and Sunday. Special arrangements have been made with the State Traffic patrol to insure orderly parking and driving at San Juan, and to safeguard the thousands of autos that will travel the road to that historic city.

Lumber Talk

Stout of heart when the night was darkest,
Always true to the coming dawn,
Cheers for your courage, faith in your future,
Here's to the city of old San Juan!

TODAY all trails lead to North San Juan and eager visitors are coming from every section of the state to see this indomitable little city stage a come back.

During the long, dark years that gloomed above the Mother Lode, San Juan never gave up; her people repudiated the term "ghost town," and clung steadfastly to the belief that good times would come again.

Now it seems that their faith and enterprise are about to be rewarded, and their courage and determination are an inspiration to the entire county.

Hats off to you old San Juan and to your sister communities of the Ridge, may your future far exceed your past in happiness, growth and prosperity.

LAVA CAP SILVER YIELD NOTABLE

Since the Grass Valley-Nevada City mining field was never noted for its silver production, it may come as a surprise to some to learn that one property, the Lava Cap, is producting upwards of 13,000 ounces of silver per month. The production comes from definite veins of silver ore in the former Central Consolidated mine, one chunk of ore exhibited by the company having an estimated silver content of 1000 ounces. This is the specimen which took second prize at the California State Fair in 1934.

Opened only a little more than two years ago under the management of O. E. Schiffner, the Lava Cap has attained the status of a finely organized mining property, electrified throughout, even to the miners' lamps; equipped with the most extensive private road system, perhaps, of any mine of the combined district, employing 170 men and producing both gold and silver on a commercial basis. This has been accomplished by the investment of a half million dollars, exclusive of property purchases.

During the last several weeks the management has been engaged in reconditioning the existing tunnel having its adit near the plant and extending some 3000 feet due north. This tunnel is now to be extended to a connection with the Banner mine, under the same control, ore from which is now being trucked to the Central plant. The tunnel will connect with the Banner at the 600 level, where an underground hoist will be installed. With a total length of 7500 feet, the project forms a two year project and a large capital investment. Progress will be at the rate of about ten feet per day.

Another development of the last few days was the purchase by the company of the 227 acre McDonald ranch, adjoining the original holdings on the west. This will increase the land holdings to over 1300 acres.

At this time L. O. Proctor, mill superintendent, is making tests of two 12-inch flotation cells to supplement its battery of six cells now in use. By use of the supplementary cells it is hoped to further reduce the tailings loss which now runs about 80 cents per ton. Mr. Proctor states that such reduction and recovery difficulties as are presented by the ores are gradually overcome, constant tests and experimentations to that end being under way.

The company maintains a substantial dam in the canyon below the plant for the storage of slimes which might be damaging to other interests.—Western Mining Journal.

CONTROL OF CREDIT A BASIC QUESTION

Economist Describes Conflict Between Opposing Social Viewpoints on Government Bank.

Agitation for government banking is a phase of the conflict between our present "personal competitive enterprise system" in America and the "compulsory state collective security system" of several European States, Virgil Jordan, President National Industrial Conference Board, says in an article in a recent issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"They involve irreconcilable principles of human conduct and philosophy of life and the conflict between them is the key to the economic, social and political struggles of today," Mr. Jordan says.

The enterprise system of which "the development of the United States has been the unparalleled example, depends for its motive power of progress upon the inexhaustible reservoir of energy in individual desire for personal advancement in prosperity, but it guarantees nothing to the individual save freedom of opportunity," the article says in part.

The collectivist security system, he says, "places all emphasis upon the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the mass without regard to the creative power of the individual. quite simply the security system involves the modern form of the philosophy of the slave society." He continues:

A Sign of the Times

"The many-sided movement toward governmental banking, deposit insurance and currency management is the most direct and decisive expression of the universal instinctive search for security which is the sign of the times. In America our so-called social security legislation is an important indication of the drift away from the enterprise system toward a collectivist security system with concentration of authority in a central Federal government.

"The nationalization of credit is crucial and indispensable for complete state control of the complex industrial and business structure of this country. The drive toward government banking and monetary control is most determined because the relation of the state to credit goes to the root of the enterprise system. A collective security system is inconceivable without nationalization of credit. An enterprise system is inconceivable with it."

Under a collective security system, based on government banking the controls "lie solely in the hands of a few persons and depend upon their judgment, will or caprice," Mr. Jordan says, adding that it is they who must determine "upon the basis of some predetermined plan or upon pure political expediency of the moment, what lines of industry and even what individual enterprises shall have access to the credit reservoir." The state, he says, has the power of life and death over all enterprise that utilizes credit.

"Every government is an organ of party power and must respond to the will of the party that put it in power," the Jordan article says. "Under unchecked government operation it is an inescapable tendency of every currency to depreciate and for credit to expand. However much it may be in the interest of the nation, deflation is too dangerous politically for any government to undertake it deliberately.

"In the end government banking and currency management resolve themselves simply into the use of credit as a political instrument of power, and this instrument tends to be used in the long run for expropriation of the savings of the community."

THE FARM BUDGET

By DAN H. OTIS,
Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Inventories aid in the formation of a farm budget. Some banks, as well as the Farm Credit Administration, recommend outlining in advance the method of using production loans. Under this plan provision is made for monthly expenditures and funds are granted to the borrower in accordance with the budget plan. The budget helps to show how loans can be repaid.

D. H. OTIS

With the accumulated data from previous inventories and budgets, budget making becomes easier and more accurate and valuable. As one branch of the farming plant requires more expenditure, such as for new machinery, fencing, livestock, etc., it may be necessary to limit other branches in order to meet these pressing requirements.

The budget helps to formulate a financial program. It is of special importance in arranging to meet special or large expenditures. If the income and expenditures are carefully budgeted it prevents the spending of money needed for interest and taxes before the time of their payment arrives. It helps to provide a reserve.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association feels that this type of work is so important that special emphasis has been placed upon the field of farm inventories, budgets and credit statements as one of its national projects for farm aid.

THE MUD BALL

What of the Planet Called Earth?

It is merely a tiny mud ball,
Lost in a maze of stars;
Warmed by the great sun's largess
And ruled by the red god, Mars.

It swings round its little orbit
In a rather methodical way,
While alternate light and darkness
Over its surface play.

It suffers from cruel convulsions,
And the tortures of fire and flood;
It is ravaged by warring creatures
Who drench it with tears and blood.

One blow from a rushing comet,
One clash with an outlaw star,
And only a fading dust cloud
Its place in the scheme would mar.

And we are the finite beings
Who cumber this ball of clay,
Each tracing fantastic patterns
Of living from day to day.

Dreading the earth's sharp tremors,
Fleeing from storm and flood,
Or mad with unreasoning hatreds,
Spilling each other's blood.

And the mighty orbs and regal
Look on in silent scorn,
Wondering why earth was created
And its feeble races born.

Doubting perchance the importance
In the vast, unfathomed plan,
Of an infinitesimal mud ball
And its curious creature, man.

SIERRA COUNTY MINES

SIERRA BUTTES

For a time concentrates from the Sierra Buttes mine were being trucked to San Francisco and treated at Selbys at the rate of five tons per week. This old property has been worked successfully almost continuously from early times. Operations of the property did not think the concentrates would pay at the present price of gold. It is reported that the returns were $60 per ton.

PETTY THIEVES

Several complaints have been heard from mine owners in the Willow Valley district east of this city in regard to thieves stealing mine equipment from properties in the absence of the owners. They report the loss of tools, windows from a big mill building, electric wire, brass connections, connecting rods and valves on compressors have also been taken.

One prominent mine owner stated the parties are being watched and their automobile is known.

BIRTH

BORN: In Nevada City, August 10, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whiting of Grass Valley, Nevada County, a daughter.

EVERYTHING SHINED UP FOR THE BIG FIESTA

Many residents of the San Juan section have been remodeling, painting and repapering their properties getting everything in readiness for the big home coming event of August 16 and 17.

Among those noted were, W. E. Moulton has added windows to his store on the north side, put in new flooring and repainted the inteerior, making the whole quite attractive; The Willow Spring store has been epainted and a lighting system installed; Mrs. J. S. Bradbury, owner of the National Hotel has had the whole freshly repapered and repainted. Robert Barthwaite is fixing up his residence.

The Improvement League has been indirectly responsible for all this. Encouraging reports from the committee are that positive assurance will be given that the big community hall will be clear of any indebtedness when the final total is figured up from the fiesta. Messrs. William P. Clerkin, Frank Miller and H. Trubschenk have been working night and day to make the homecoming a success.

MINING NEWS

Some rich gravel has been encountered and this is being washed for recovery of the gold content. About twenty men are employed under Mr. Scott, as superintendent.

YOU BET GRAVEL MINING COMPANY

Reports from the You Bet Mine are that in drifting operations some rich gravel has been encountered, and is being taken out. The water is low at this time and gravel washing is being done first on the Browns Hill and then the You Bet side of the immense gravel deposit. Mr. E. A. McGhie is in charge.

In quoting mine reports it was found that: At Red Dog near You Bet the channel has very little fall, the average elevation being 2620 feet above sea level. This district has a good past production record. Drifting operations on Brown Brothers claim in 1867 yielded $600,000 for 400 square feet of ground. Production from the Niece and West claims ran from $250 to $1,000 for each linear foot of channel drifted. A Chinaman, Ah Tie, drifted and stoped on the Brown claim in 1909 to the extent of 400 feet in length and 60 feet high, taking out $400,000. In 1916 a man named Davis in six weeks took out $41,000 from a small piece of ground in the You Bet diggings. Much of the gravel in the channel at You Bet is from 30 to 40 feet in depth often capped by as much as 350 feet of loose gravel interstratified with some clay and sand.

RIVER PLACERS

About 25 men are employed at the River Placers gravel property near Columbia Hill, north of Nevada City. Two drag lines are working three shifts in the bed of the North Yuba River in excavation work. The gravel has been taken out for a depth of about forty feet. A. D. Hughes of Nevada City is superintendent.

FRENCH CORRAL MINE

W. E. Moulton of French Corral states the French Corral mining company is installing a large eight inch pump to pump water for larger operations at the property. The company had a fairly good run this spring, but lack of water is slowing down work. A trommel is used in handling the gravel for sluicing.

PLUMBAGO MINE

Two men are working the dump of the Plumbago mine at Alleghany. It is rumored that it is paying well. The men are working out the free gold leaving the concentrates.

MOUNTAIN VIEW MINE

J. F. White, who is reopening the Mountain View mine and two adjacent properties on the South Yuba river, has taken provisions and lumber to the scene of operations. On Tuesday a 50 ton daily capacity rod Francisco capital is reopening the property.

YOUNG AMERICA

A crew of about twenty continue drifting and prospecting at the Young America propety on Sardine Lake, which was taken under lease and bond by R. H. Plate of Nevada City. Mr. Halkstad is superintendent for Mr. Plate and associates. San mill was taken through Nevada City and Washington en route to the mine. Mr. White leased the Mountain View from Martin Van Berg of this city and considerable development and reconditioning work was done last fall.

SALMON MINE

Considerable work has been done in reconditioning the Salmon mine near Tyler. Mr. James B. Truitt, who has the option on the ground is waiting for orders from the east to proceed in operating the mine. Three men are employed.

GREEN MOUNTAIN PROPERTY

Norman Kistle, local shoemaker, has decided to spend his two weeks vacation at the Green Mountain property east of Nevada City in which he has a half interest. He is drilling, blasting and taking out ore from the rich six foot ledge uncovered in the property in recent weeks. His brother, Charles Kistle, is assisting in developing and taking out ore. They are negotiating for a mill to handle the ore at the mine.

LITTLE MINT MINE

The Little Mint mine at Raleighs Point on the North Yuba river has resumed operations with six men employed. Ernest Bean of French Corral is in charge of the crew. Reports are good gravel is in sight.

ORO FLAME PROPERTY

J. J. Connell, owner of the Oro Flame mine at Alleghany was a Nevada City visitor Wednesday. He stated he has two men eemployed prospecting and developing the property.

MAMMOTH SPRINGS

The Mammoth Springs mine near Alleghany has a small crew doing development work. The company has taken out some good ore in recent operations.

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

The foundation for the 400 ton daily capacity mill, at the Zeibright mine above Bear Valley, is about completed. Part of the space for the foundation of the present 100 ton mill had to be utilized, and the rest of the space was blasted out of the mountain. Three drifts are being driven into the mountain and men are now raising and taking out ore which is milled in the old mill. About 100 men are employed at the property. Construction of the new mill will start soon.

GRUENWALD PROPERTY

Otto Gruenwald came up from Sacramento Wednesday on business in regard to his mining property on Indian Flat west of Nevada City. He has leased the ground to Mr. J. Bell, who has opened up a new ledge on promising ore on the propety.

SAN JUAN MINE

Ore mined at the rate of about 500 tons per day at the San Juan mine near Sweetland is being trucked to Nevada City each day in two shifts. The ore is delivered at the narrow gauge railroad depot in this city for shipment to Colfax and from there is is shipped to San Francisco. Then it is shipped by boat to the Bradley interests mill at Seattle for extraction of gold. The ore looks like red clay. Fifteen men are employed and work consists mainly of drifting. A lot of surface prospecting was done by the company this spring.

PHOENIX PROPERTY

The shaft at the Phoenix mine south of Grass Valley is being unwatered, and it is expected that more active development will begin in a few weeks.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR LITTLE GIRL TODAY

Funeral services will be held this morning at Holmes Funeral home parlors for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Swazey of French Corral. Rev. Father O'Reilly of St. Canice jarish will officiate.

A great deal of sympathy has been expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Swazey at the loss of their beautiful child, Catherine Mary, who passed away at the home of Mrs. Swazey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Day in Nevada City after an attack of pneumonia.

The child was the youngest of four generations, her great grandmother, Mrs. Nancy J. Salmon of French Corral; her great grandmother, Mrs. Mary Salmon of Manteca; her grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Day of Nevada City and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Swazey of French Corral.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

VOL. 1. AUGUST 16, 1935. No. 19.

Bill Caine's Auto Court (formerly Rudes) is having its face lifted. Contactor Howard Ross is in charge of the remodeling of the front of this court. The finished job will be a modern store building and other improvements. Good luck Bill.

Did you know that our stock includes plumbing fixtures, sewer pipe, Palco septic tanks, and we can figure your needs in this line?

The Maxwell place out on the Tahoe Ukiah highway is getting an overcoat of redwood shingles. These shingles applied with galvanized nails will improve any old rustic house at a minimum of cost.

A new small metal clip has been developed that will hold down Hexagonal and other types of composition shingles that are inclined to be lifted by the wind. The clips are not visible from the ground but they hold the shingles down. We will be glad to demonstrate them to you. Can be put on old roofs as well as new.

Fall rains are not so far off. Have you checked over your roof lately? If not do it now.

We will be glad to advise with you on the best application for your particular roof.

Contractor Bill Forkner is starting a new building for Mrs. Rosa Varischetti on Bennett and Ophir streets in Grass Valley. The building will be a modern Italian Restaurant with living quarters attached.

FEDERAL LOANS AID BUILDING OF 400 HOMES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—More than 400 new homes, representing investments in excess of $2,000,000, have been built as a direct result of low cost, long term financing permitted under the National Housing Act.

This fact was revealed in statistics just compiled by the Northern California district of the Federal Housing Administration.

"The vast proportions of this home building program are surprising even to those closely in touch with the situation and in possession of first hand knowledge of just how eagerly home owners are snatching benefits from this unusual form of financing," said Clifford C. Anglim, district director.

"That the National Housing Act is most marvelously fulfilling its purpose of stimulating industry and creating employment is shown by the great army of skilled tradesmen returned to work. It has been conservatively estimated that of each dollar spent for building 75 cents goes for labor.

"On that basis, at least $1,500,000 has been paid into the pockets of labor for the building of these 400 homes, alone. The thousands of modenization projects going forward at the same time also were large consumers of labor."

Anglim explained, however, that the liberal terms of the Housing Act "are irresistible to thrifty persons interested in home ownership," because "the act permits persons of modest means to acquire homes of their own on monthly payments, like rent, but less costly."

A $4,000 property can be purchased under the National Housing Act, he pointed out, for payments as low as $29.25 a month. In many instances clear title to a lot is sufficient to establish the borrower's equity of 20 percent. He then is eligible to make application to his bank, or other lending agency of his choice, for a loan up to $3200 to finance construction of the house, Anglim said.

Payments on such a loan, it was shown, amount to $23.76 for principal and interest, approximately $4.96 for taxes and 53 cents for fire insurance, making a total monthly payment of $29.25.

GLAMOROUS SAN JUAN RIDGE MADE HISTORY

members the great freight wagons drawn by mules. At times two and three wagons were chained together and were drawn by sixteen head of mules that crept along the dusty roads with twitching ears and the bells jingling on the leaders. On these wagons, freight was piled so high—groceries, liquors, hay, supplies of all kinds to be distributed to Bloomfield, Moores Flat, Graniteville, and Donnieville. In those days the Pioneers were known to buy barley by the seven ton lots for the hogs and cattle.

Stephen Solaro, an enterprising young Italian, sailed from Italy and after a three week's adventurous trip, landed at Grass Valley. Later he came into Cherokee and there married Miss Ellen Calanan. Directly after their marriage they moved down the Ridge and bought the old San Juan Hotel and Mrs. Solaro has lived there continuously for fifty four years.

And it was she who told of the sailors. The sailors who deserted their ships in the Day of San Francisco and awarmed into the foothills to be miners. And it was to North San Juan a certain amount of them came, these sailors with their maritime ideas. She told me how they decided, in one of their seagoing moods, that the town should have a flagpole. And then with a sailor's crafty knowledge of bowlines, halyards and knots, they stepped two masts together with a yard arm at the peak and rigged a flagpole two hundred feet high amidship the main street.

Before Stephen Solaro's death, two years ago, he was commissioned to take down the old mast, and its rotting cross beam before they fell of their own accord and injured some one. Part of the timber and one of the long halyards is still to be seen in the Solaro gardens.

HISTORIC HEARSE

And Mike Hogan lived here in the old mining days. It was Mike Hogan who ran the livery stable and owned the magnificent hand made hearse that was brought to California via the Horn and may be seen to this day in the old theatre building at North San Juan. To this beautiful hearse Mike Hogan hitched two magnificent black horses and two men in deepest mourning sat on the seat up front. If the deceased was an adult six great black feathery plumes, three to a side, drooped upon the top of the hearse in majestic sorrow and another pair, one for each horse, graced the animal's bowed necks. If the deceased one was a young person the hearse was draped similarly in plumes of white.

OLD TIMERS

Hardly any of the real old-timers remain in North San Juan. In a quaint little cottage on the slopes of San Juan Hill dwell Miss Lena Deneke who has lived in this town for fifty years. And below her in another old-time cottage lives the widow of Sam McCullough who, in his time, was the president of the Water Association.

In one of the old brick buildings, today in North San Juan, is an up-to-date butcher shop owned by Lewis Woods. In the early days this building was occupied by the Mason's lodge rooms. And in the two story brick building, where the San Juan Improvement League holds its meetings, was once the lodge room of the Odd Fellows. And the old Pat Gaynor saloon is now a filling station and garage.

NEWSPAPERS 300 YEARS OLD FILED IN U. C. LIBRARY

BERKELEY, Aug. 15.—Original copies of the "extra" that heralded the fall of the Bastile, and also copies of the Belgian "Nieuwe Tydinghen" and the Parisian "Gozette de France," believed to be among the oldest newspapers in the world, have come into the possession of the University of California library in an outstanding collection of 40,000 newspapers of all nations. The collection dates from 1620, when the "Nieuwe Tydinghen" first made its appearance, to 1920, when the collector, Leon Clerbois, came to the United States from Brussels, where he had been an official of the municipal government for forty years.

Clerbois' interest in the collection of newspapers was first aroused when he came on several original copies of the "Nieuwe Tydinghen" in the attic of the famous Palace d'Oremberg, in Brussels, many years ago. Investigating further he found that the paper was started in Antwerp in 1620 by Abraham Verhoeven, and that its original place of publication, together with the ancient press and wooden type, was still in existence. Later he was enabled to obtain a fairly complete set of the "Gazette de France," founded in Paris in 1632 by Theophraste Renoudot and published until 1898. This paper contains full and vivid accounts of the first and second French revolutions and casualty list of those who perished on the guillotine.

Papers published in England, Germany, Italy, Japan, China and many other countries for periods running from a decade to a century or more were added to the collection, until 40,000 copies had been catalogued. At one time the collection was valued at $35,000, but the depression contracted that figure considerably. When Clerbois came to America in 1920 he had the collection stored in Brussels until such time as he could arrange a sale. The ship bringing the collection to this country was nearly wrecked in a storm off the Azores, and for some time the fate of the collection was in doubt.

The French Revolutions, the battle of Waterloo, the Franco-Prussian war and all of the great Continental political and military operations dating back almost to mediaeval times are recorded at length in the collection. It also includes approximately 1200 American newspapers, running back for many decades.

The collection has been installed in a special room in the University Library.

TEACHERS OF 17 COUNTIES WILL MEET IN SACTO.

Northern California teachers will hold their largest institute in history, at Sacramento November 25, 26 and 27, it is announced by Mrs. Ella Austin, superintendent of schools of Nevada county.

Sacramento and Chico city school systems will also participate in the program. Mrs. Austin expects a one hundred percent attendance of the Nevada County teachers. In May it was decided by a vote of the teachers of Nevada county that they would like to join this institute in Sacramento.

Eminent educators, whom it would be impossible for a one-county institute to secure, will lecture during the three-day institute, some coming from Columbia University, New York.

NEV. CO. BONDED DEBT, $689,202

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—The people of Nevada county owed a bonded debt for state, school, and district purposes of $48.57 for each man, woman and child in the county or a total of $689,202 as at June 30, 1934, according to a study of the state and local bonded debt of California counties, recently completed by California Taxpayers' Association.

Taxpayers of twelve California counties owed a bonded debt per capita for state and local government pirposes of over $100. Three counties were San Francisco, with a per capita debt of $274.94; Los Angeles, $170.63; San Diego, $164.41; Sacramento, $144.65; Riverside, $131.97; Colusa, $127.63; Orange, $114.79; Fresno, 110.18; Santa Barbara, $10968; San Joaquin, $107.61; Contra Costa, $105.14; and Alameda, $102.77.

Mono and Trinity counties showed the lowest debt per capita of the counties of the state, with a debt of $25.35; next lowest was Amador county, with a debt of $25.87 per capita; Plumas, $26.06; Tuolumne, $27.56; Sierra, $27.70; and Mariposa $28.30. Only seven counties showed a bonded debt for state and local governments of less than $30 per capita.

As at June 30, 1934 the association found, there were outstanding in California $891,700,220 of state, county, municipal and district bond. These figures, the association pointed out, do not include $80,000,000 of special assessment bonds, nor do they include $380,000,00 of authorized but unissued county and municipal debt, $65,00,000 worth of the state bonds authorized but unsold, and $260,000,000 of revenue bonds. The sum of these actual and potential bonded debts is more than $1,400,000. Added to these is California's share of the Federal debt, together with the authorized but unissued Federal debt, which on a population basis, the association estimatss to be $1,615,000,000. The sum of all this actual and potential debt burden against the people of California the association estimates to be about three and one half billion dollars, or nearly 57 percent of the assessed value of all land, buildings and property subject to tax in the state.

HERB SPECIALIST

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—
For years I was a sufferer from constipation. My blood was out of order and my kidneys and bladder bothered me terribly causing dreadful back-aches. On top of all this I had female trouble.
I tried several doctors but none helped me. One recommended an operation which I dreaded as a previous operation did not help me.
One day my husband noticed A. M. Tom's advertisement and suggested that I visit him. Having taken Herb treatments for five weeks, I am well again, and able to go back to work.
I cannot praise A. M. Tom too highly and if you are suffering I honestly recommend you to see him as I know what he has done for me, he can do for others.
Signed, Mrs. Lena Williams, 1230 Rameriz St., Marysville.

NEW SIDEWALKS, NEW STREETS FOR NEVADA CITY

The city council held an adjourned meeting at the city hall last evening and completed much business that they have been discussing for some time.

The city bought a dump truck to be used in the city work at a cost of $1100. Purchase was made from George Brothers of Grass Valley.

Gordon Bettles, who has been making a survey of the sidewalks of Nevada City for the council, reported that there were nine miles of sidewalks to be paved and that 12,000 sacks of cement and 2,500 cubic yards of gravel would be needed for the project. It is expected that the labor for this project will be furnished by the WPA thus making a minimum cost to the property owners. It is estimated that the side walk would cost the property owner only 10 cents for square foot which would be thirty cents a front foot for a three foot sidewalk. For a fifty foot lot the property owner would have to pay only $15.00 for a sidewalk. The project is in shape to be presented to the WPA and will be filed today.

Mr. Bettles is also making a survey for a large street project for the council who have decided to pave as much street as they possibly can with the available money and available WPA labor.

They decided to re-lay a pipeline from Shurtleffs corner to Long street. Mr. Bettles is now making the survey. The four inch pipe may be replaced by a six inch pipe. The city has some six inch pipe on hand and it may be sufficient. It is the old Piety Hill line, not now in use. It will be taken up and cleaned if they decide to use it.

The council adjourned and will meet again at the city hall next Thursday, August 22.
